Contrary to the prevailing popular idea, the autonomic nervous system (ANS) can be more accurately conceptualized as having THREE branches, not two! The three are phylogenetically sequential, reflecting increasing survival effectiveness at each stage. The prevailing view of the ANS pits Sympathetic Nervous System against the Parasympathetic Nervous system but there is a third more powerful system, the Social Engagement System that is unique to Mammals and especially to Humans. This system has been critical to our survival and evolution as a species and is also the system that gets comprised during and after a traumatic physical or emotional event to include prolonged stress and neglect. Come explore new ways to think and talk about the nervous system with your students and clients as well as the powerful way we can intentionally recruit this system to provide more effective healing movement options.

Having the ability to make schedule changes when necessary can be a win-win-win for you, your team, and your members. In this session, we'll explore the systems, set-up, and staffing necessary to make it work and tackle smart timing for program launches!

This session will not only addressed the information above - but also talk through what we have learned during the Covid19 crisis ... what did consumers experiment with while away, what are they wanting now, how can we update our schedules to reflect their new consumption needs?

1. Why digital schedules are needed.
2. What consumers want/need in programming now.
3. How to provide the most well-rounded, customizable schedule to meet the needs of the widest number of members.

164 Yogafit® What's in a cue? The neuroscience of How our Language Impacts Movement and Healing in Yoga with Shaye Molendyke

Workshop: GE, MB

Language impacts not just what we do but HOW we do what we do. This fact becomes critically important when teaching yoga but could also have impact when working directly with clients who are struggling to create real change in their lives. Using words that offer choice and encourager process-oriented movements as opposed to goal oriented movements changes the entire path that we take to get there. One path is a forgone conclusion and is the path of OLD habits, patterns and reinforcement of pre-programmed implicit movement patterns. That's the “do what I say because I told you to” path of language. The other language path is the more creative and intuitive path that offers our students choices based on feeling, breathing and staying in the present moment. This kind of language is the DIFFERENCE maker when determining if a class is one that is healing or not! Come find out what kind of language creates this quantum new potential in our lives, and how it impacts the brain as well as the nervous system. We will have a 30-45 minute discussion and then a 45 minute language focused yoga practice.
