216 3D Core Training with Pete McCall

Workshop: GE, MB, PT, S

Core training has emerged as a popular trend in the fitness world. How can a fitness professional use core training as an effective tool for helping clients to achieve their goals? Traditional core exercises typically have clients lying on the ground focusing on moving in a single plane which does not effectively prepare the muscles for the forces they will experience during upright, ground-based movement. Learn techniques to design a core training program that prepares the body to produce, stabilize and control force in a three-dimensional environment - the way the muscles have to work on a daily basis.

217 Rise and Flow with Yoga with Lauren Eirk

Workshop: GE, MB

Whether in private studios, specialized healthcare facilities, or fitness centers, Vinyasa Fitness Yoga continues to be the style that continues to be the most popular for those seeking a more rigorous practice for physical health and mental | emotional stability. As teachers, we struggle to make our classes fresh for our students to be an inspiration to them. In this class, learn creative sequences, cutting-edge cueing, and a refreshing, new look at the poses that we teach every day.

218 StairMaster® HIIT - Real Ratios for Results with Sonja Friend Uhl

Workshop: GE, PT

You can have too much of a good thing. Over-programming HIIT lends itself to overtraining and potential injury. Learn the benefits of aerobic steady-state and aerobic interval training and how to design workouts that blend the best of both to burn calories and torch fat while reducing the risk of injury.

219 Schwinn® Cycling: Rhythm Done Right with Helen Vanderburg

Workshop: CY

Apply smart movement strategies to target the stability/mobility relationships that balance the body's structures.

228 Ebb & Flow: Chakra Powered Yoga with Connie Borho

Workshop: GE, MB, PT

The Yoga Bija defines the practice of Yoga as the unification of the web of dualities. Explore the duality of energy flow within postures and learn to gather or unify this energy flow mentally at a center point of energy, or chakra, to create greater power and stability without increasing physical effort. We will focus on mindful movement as a meditation tool recreating the constant state of motion we are in throughout every day life. This session is not just a physical workout, it is not just a lesson in mindfulness; it is a true integration of the two.

229 Schwinn® Cycling: SchwINTENSITY with Jeffrey Scott

Workshop: CY

Coaching clear INTENSITY expectations is KEY to getting participants to achieve their greatest potential. The latest research shows Intensity - not complexity - is what makes a cycling class GREAT and we'll show you how to apply it to connect with your riders. True feeling unlocks undeniable results.

230 Making an Impact in the Fitness Industry: Teaching Your Passion and Building Your Business with Robert Sherman

289 SPINNING® Less is More - Recovery Is Bigger Than You Think with Carmen Diges

Workshop: CY

Recovery - bane or blessing? Far too often, we prioritize the quality and quantity of work we prescribe in our rides over recovery. But recovery specificity is as important as how much work you do. Using measured metrics displayed on the Spinning® computer helps you communicate to your clients how recovery can be their secret weapon to performance improvements. This workshop will review physiological theory relating to interval design focusing on recovery phase of interval and set construction. Recovery requirements between sessions will also be addressed. This is especially relevant for your time-crunched students who are prone to skimp on recovery - they won't believe how much better they can perform with less work!

290 Glutes, Glutes, and More Glutes: The Complete Conditioning Strategy with Dr. Evan Osar
